

Bringing the neighborhood to the clinic for practice productivity.

Turn routine requests for vaccination records from local pet services providers into lasting client relationships, a better client experience, and new revenue streams for your clinic.

Onboard new patient referrals coming from pet services

Tap into our referral network of upcoming pet services appointments that require veterinarian care. Generate more clinic revenue from current, active and new clients.

Stay in control of the records leaving your clinic

Track, monitor, and approve requests for medical records across your clinic. Stop sending sensitive client information out over email.

Seamless and effortless PIMS integration

Use the PIMS software you already know and love. Integration doesn't mean full database access – sync only specific endpoints to maintain client privacy.

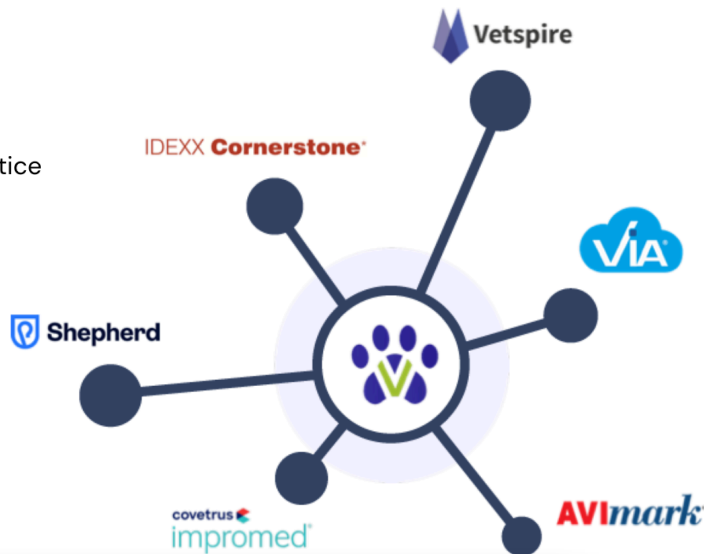

Modernize the client and patient experience across the economy

The modern pet parent isn't looking for more access their pet's health records; they are asking for their records to be accessible by the places they go.

- ✓ Save 30+ hours/month for CSRs
- ✓ Track every record verification
- ✓ Sync securely to your PIMS
- ✓ Fetch and verify vaccine records from other clinics
- ✓ New patient referrals from pet service providers that require care

Connect seamlessly

VetVerifi integrates with the most commonly used veterinary practice information management systems (PIMS) for a secure, seamless onboarding experience.

Dr. Hannah T., DVM and Practice Owner

"Our front desk answers calls every day, often from the same people, with the same request – to send over vaccination records or full medical records. Automating those requests, securely, saves all of us a ton of time to focus on what matters – our patients and clients."
